Jenni Gray

Jenni Gray was a member of Amazon Theatre and performed in two productions, Dykes of Our Restless Daze in 1991 and Undercover in 1992. Out of her experience making plaster of Paris casts of full and half face masks for the production of Undercover, Jenni also made a plaster cast of her breasts and painted it gold before she donated it to the Archives.

Jenni was also a founding member of the Women's Circus and performed in the inaugural Women and Institutions Show in 1991, where her whip cracking skills were featured, and the Women and Work Show in 1992.
